

Healthcare Data Management-Why is it so Important?

William O' Brien

William is the Director of Cyber Security, Privacy and Forensics at PwC. William's industry skills include GIAC Certified Forensic Examiner and Analyst, PRINCE2 Certified, along with an honours degree in Computer Science from University College Cork. William is also a seasoned lecturer, having developed and lectured on the Certificate in Technology Risk and Data Incident Management for Chartered Accountants Ireland. He is a regular speaker and guest lecturer on the topic of White Collar Crime Prevention and Anti-Bribery & Corruption for the Institute of Banking Ireland.

Hazel Chappell

Hazel is Founder and Digital Managing Partner at ishca health Inc. She champions disruptive technologies to support America's efforts in digital transformation of health and care through innovation, with an emphasis on Biomedicine and Lifesciences. She has key interests in data intelligence, change management and cybersecurity. She is currently an Executive Advisor to leadership in health start-ups charged with enhancing Operational, Management and Business efforts to scale up. She is a member of the Texas Interoperability Collaborative, OWASP Austin, BioNorth Texas, an active contributor to America's HHS ONC 405(d) Cybersecurity Task Group and e-Health Ireland Committee board member.

Prof. Donal Sexton

Professor Donal Sexton is a Consultant Nephrologist and Kidney Transplant physician at St James's Hospital and Clinical Associate Professor with Trinity College Dublin. He graduated from NUI Galway in 2006 with a first class honours degree and 5 National Henry Hutchinson Steward NUI scholarships in addition to an intercalated BSc in Pharmacology. He then undertook training at the Mater Hospital Dublin and the Mayo Clinic USA before subsequently completing a PhD in Clinical Epidemiology and Fellowship at the NIH funded United States Renal Data System (USRDS), Minnesota, USA. He then completed a Kidney Transplantation Fellowship and subsequently worked as Consultant Nephrologist and Kidney Transplant Physician at Beaumont Hospital Dublin before joining St James's Hospital in 2019. He is a researcher with TILDA (the Irish Longitudinal study on ageing) and also a Principal Investigator with ADAPT in Trinity focusing on machine learning and artificial intelligence on health data.

Health Innovation Hub
Ireland Webinar Series

SPEAKERS

William O' Brien
Hazel Chappell
Professor Donal Sexton

TITLE

Healthcare Data Management-
Why is it so Important?

DATE & TIME

Friday 30 September 2022 at 2pm

CLICK HERE
TO REGISTER
YOUR PLACE

